

London Town

Touching down to Heathrow
I've got a 'London Transport' one way ticket
A familiar 'change please' is ringing in my ears

Curry dishes, China town
The glooming river upside down
Got a stroke with cash, I'm nearly drowned

Hear the seagulls - scream on my
See the seagulls - scream on me

I'm going to lost in Soho
Music is blasting out of side streets
Watching girls que up the doors in foggy rain

Have a drink on me
Have a drink on me
Another a drink on me
Well I wish you all the best my mates
A toast and tender kisses
To the memories and dreams of better days

NFT on South Bank on a sunday afternoon
Watching the boats stroll down the river to the sea

Brixton market, Oxford street
Observing current fashion strolling out to Cew or Grenwich having tea

Hear the seagulls - scream on my
See the seagulls - scream on me

A trip to Tottenham Court Road
Drop to Fowleys Books or Marquee Club
Where memories of Rock Music are consealed

Have a drink on me
Have a drink on me
Another a drink on me
Well I wish you all the best my mates
A toast and tender kisses
To the memories and dreams of better days

Have a drink on me
Have a drink on me
Another a drink on me
Well I wish you all the best my mates
A toast and tender kisses
To the memories and dreams of better days